PEACE CHANCES ON UPSWING: EISENHOWER

Eisenhower Urges Low Income Farm Aid Program

About Town And Country

By TIMOTHY T.

TOMAYTO OR TOMAWTO, take your pick. As you know, the tomato is a fruit, and what you eat is a large rounded pulpy berry which is red or yellow when ripe, according to authority.

But the tomato I had on my desk yesterday was a lulu. It was prodigious, huge, monstrous and a lot bigger than average.

I did some figuring and figured I had about 70 cents worth of tomato right there in my hand. That's a lot of pulpy berry.

This entry, which should take a front seat in our "We Grow 'Em Bigger Dept.," was brought in from the Pickford greenhouse.

But the sample that is right now resting in my refrigerator at home, weighed two and one fourth pounds. And if that doesn't mean too much it was 18 and a half inches around the long way.

And the beauty of it all is that the pulpy part of the berry is of fine texture—it's a good tomato as well as a big one.

WILLIAM FEATHER is the editor of a little periodical called The Imperial Magazine, published by the Imperial Type Metal Co., and from the start of the 25-page pamphlet to the finish Mr. Feather does all the talking. He quotes nobody, just keeps rambling in fine fashion.

In his April issue, for example, he says:

"Time says that the average reader of its magazine carries $30.70 in his pockets at any given time. If the given time is Friday, some of us might have $100; if Monday $3.33.

"Averages are unsatisfactory. The average of Time might carry $515 which would make a nice average for a score of financially disabled readers whose pocket money is usually less than $5.

"We are constantly surprised at the number of friends who keep a $50 note tucked in their wallet for an emergency. We suppose they plan to be prepared for a sudden moral or motor breakdown."

Yep, he just rambles, like this: "James Webb Young, an experienced practitioner of advertising, privately printed 600 copies of a short dissertation on his favorite subject and I was lucky enough to get a copy.

"Young's thesis is that for better or worse, we like the familiar. To get away from it all, we go to strange countries and weep because we hear no English. We greet a fellow-countryman in Paris as though he were a member of the family. The menu in a fancy restaurant offers a dozen exotic dishes, but we order roast beef and mashed potatoes. We don't care to take a chance.

"So it goes with advertising. Familiar names make us comfortable. The faith of persistent advertisers pays."

And, says Feather in another part of the magazine, "If you count the cost, you have no fun."

Vaccine Shots At Dorrisville and Carrier Mills

SALK VACCINE INOCULATIONS WERE GIVEN TO 250 Saline county school children Tuesday, the second day polio shots were given in the county. Monday the shots were given at Eldorado and Galatia and Tuesday clinics were held at Dorrisville and Carrier Mills schools. In top photo may be seen part of the 124 children from 13 schools who came to Dorrisville school for the clinic, starting at 1 p. m. Children from Pankeyville, Wasson, Muddy, South Walnut Grove, Pierson, Rudement, Cottage Grove, Mitchellville, Winkelman, Spring Valley, Colbert and Taylor joined with Dorrisville school children in the Dorrisville shots, which were given by Dr. J. H. Wells, head of the Egyptian Health Department. He was assisted by nurses from the department, Mable Burton, Vivian Kotner and Ruby Tanner. Mrs. Jack Cox and Mrs. Paul Ledbetter of the Dorrisville PTA also assisted in the program. In foreground are Brose Phillips, principal of Dorrisville school, R. Dale Wilson, Saline county superintendent of schools, and A. M. Hetherington, chairman Saline County Chapter for Infantile Paralysis. In lower photo an unidentified Carrier Mills second grade pupil is comforted by her teacher, Mrs. Alice Holloway as Dr. Harold Brown gives the shot. In the foreground at left is Mrs. Doyle Schwartz, president of Carrier Mills PTA, who helped with the program. At Carrier Mills 126 inoculations were given to pupils from Holmes, Dunbar, Lakeview, New Castle, South Willford, Duncan, East Ledford, West Ledford and Carrier Mills schools. Dr. Brown was assisted by the nurses from the Egyptian Health Dept. and PTA members Mrs. Schwartz, Mrs. James Beggs and Mrs. George Campbell.

Drag Ohio River For Body of Pope County Man

Efforts to recover the body of a Pope county young man drowned Saturday in the Ohio river had proved unsuccessful last night despite the efforts of numerous persons including state of Illinois personnel.

Drowned was Sam Fairfield, 23, of Hawnetsburg, who returned from the service a few months ago.

Those assisting in the rescue operations included Horace Ritchey, conservation investigator, of Saline county; Paul Smith, district inspector of conservation, Ridgeway; and State Policemen Roy A. Lane and Guthrie Alexander of Harrisburg and L. E. Lezynski of Rosiclare.

Ritchey, who returned home last night after being there since Sunday, said the river was dragged for about a mile from where the boat containing Fairfield and two others capsized while they were putting out lines. The other two were saved.

At an organizational meeting of the Galatia school board held recently, John Davis was named president, and N. R. Gullie, secretary. Other members of the board are Virgil Manker, Wallace Garrett, Terry Fowler, Wallace Stewart, Ewing Flannigan and Howard Malone. Davis and Flannigan were elected to the board early this month.

House Resolution Asks Governor To Continue Surplus Food Program

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—The Illinois House, with administration support, today adopted a resolution urging continuation of distribution of free surplus foods to economically depressed areas.

The resolution asks Gov. William G. Stratton to do everything possible, including using state trucks if necessary, to keep the federal surplus foods going to the needy.

Four Democrats sponsored the resolution, but Rep. John W. Lewis, Marshall, Republican majority leader, gave it a boost when he said there was no reason it shouldn't be considered immediately.

He said the Illinois Public Aid Commission had already continued the food distribution through two extra months at the request of the governor. Lewis said the IPAC initiated the distribution last fall to meet a winter emergency.

The resolution was then adopted by a voice vote.

The Illinois Public Aid Commission announced last week it was halting the distribution of free federal surplus food because it has insufficient funds to carry on a statewide distribution program.

The IPAC last fall started delivering the foodstuffs to five counties with many persons unemployed and on relief rolls. By this month the food was being sent to 10 counties: Christian, Franklin, Hardin, Jefferson, Macoupin, Montgomery, Perry, Pope, Saline and Williamson.

The IPAC said it did not want to continue the program unless it could be done on a statewide basis and this would cost $100,000 a year for distribution. Distribution cost for 10 counties was running about $7,500 a month.

The resolution submitted today states that if IPAC "funds are insufficient to enable it to perform its job satisfactorily, the IPAC come before us and correctly state its needed appropriation."

The resolution states "if the IPAC has sufficient funds we urgently request it to perform its obligations and rescind its decision."

Otherwise, the resolution "respectively requests Governor Stratton to assemble all available transportation at the service of the various agencies under his direction and divert their use to alleviate the conditions which threaten to prevent thousands of persons from obtaining nourishing foods and that copies of this resolution be delivered immediately to Governor Stratton and the IPAC."

The resolution called the suspension of food distribution "utter disregard of human misery."

The four sponsors were Reps. Carl Prehns, Pana; Paul Powell, Vienna; Clyde L. Choteau, Anna; and Bert Baker Jr., Chouteau.

Order Vaccine by California Firm Withheld

WASHINGTON (UP)—The government ordered all polio Salk vaccine manufactured by the Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif., withheld from the public pending investigation of six paralytic cases among children inoculated with it.

Dr. Leonard A. Scheele, U. S. surgeon general, notified the laboratories of the action.

It was the first such move taken by the government since the Salk shots were licensed for public use.

Cutter Laboratories, one of six firms producing the serum, were ordered "to withdraw all lots of vaccine manufactured in its laboratories from distribution."

The Public Health Service said Cutter Laboratories "immediately agreed to comply." It said "all state and territorial health departments are being advised of this action."

The service said the six cases of paralytic polio had occurred among children who had received shots produced by Cutter Laboratories.

Asks Expanded Program of Guidance, Credit

President Approves Proposals Drafted By Secretary Benson

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today sent Congress a new poor man's farm program, designed to "open the doors of opportunity" to 1,500,000 low-income families on small farms.

"In this wealthiest of nations, where per capita income is the highest in the world, more than one-fourth of the families who live on American farms still have cash incomes of less than $1,000 a year," the President said in a special message to Congress.

He proposed expanded programs of education, guidance and credit to help some earn more on small farms. Others would be trained for business and industrial jobs and encouraged to move off land so poor that farming is "an almost hopeless struggle."

"General Approval"

Federal, state and local cooperation is emphasized in 15 detailed proposals drafted for the administration by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson. The President's brief message said the program, prepared after more than a year of study, has "my general approval."

Low-income farms are concentrated in about one-third of the nation's 3,000 farming counties, Benson reported. They lie largely in a southern and eastern belt stretching from eastern Texas to Pennsylvania.

Farmers in these areas are up against "lack of enough good land, lack of equipment, lack of credit facilities and often lack of management information and skill," the agriculture secretary's report said.

The proposed solutions are "those which the people most concerned have chosen, as shown by their economic and social behavior," the report asserted.

Key Proposals

1. Expand cooperative federal-state agricultural extension work and adapt it to the needs of low-income families. In pilot counties, Benson said at least 50 families a year should be given a complete farm production and living guidance service. These families would serve as an example to their neighbors. They might be encouraged to save money by buying and selling cooperatively, Benson suggested.

2. Expand research on the operation of small farms, possibly setting up several experimental farms to study new combinations of crops.

3. Provide information on town and city job prospects to farmers in areas that should not be cropped. Benson said this might be coupled with state action to bar farming in some areas by zoning laws. Poor land now in farms could be sold for forestry use, the secretary suggested.

4. Expand state and local programs designed to bring new industry to rural areas. Federal agencies should help in locating defense industry in sections heavily populated by low-income farmers.

5. Authorize the farmers home administration to make loans to part-time farmers. FHA should also be given $30 million dollars for five-to-seven year loans to low-income farmers, and banks should be encouraged to make more loans of this type.

6. Encourage private farm, business and other leadership to unite in community development projects to make the most of "agriculture's human resources."

Kiwanians Plan Box Supper on May 3; Club to Conduct Boy Scout Campaign

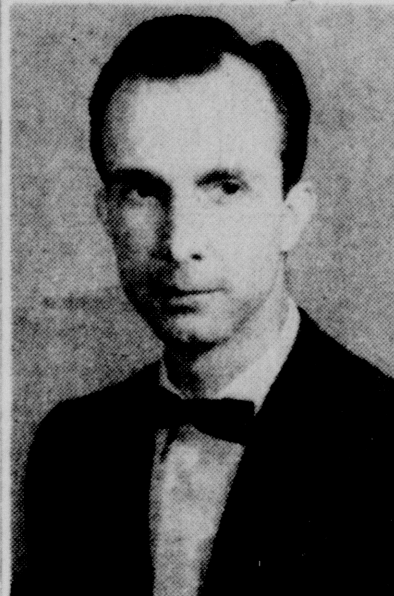

Members of the Harrisburg Kiwanis club, who will conduct the general finance campaign in Harrisburg for the Boy Scouts, saw a film strip of the fundamentals of the Scout movement at their regular meeting Tuesday evening.

Also discussed at length was the old-fashioned box supper being sponsored by the Kiwanis club, Tuesday, May 3, at 6:30 p. m. at the Masonic temple.

The box supper is open to the public and everyone is invited to come out and have a good time. Proceeds from the supper will go to the Kiwanis underprivileged children fund.

The club also voted to cooperate in the movement to locate a Youth Center in Harrisburg and Gene Morris was appointed to serve on the board of directors for a year. Delta Theta Tau is heading the movement to organize the Youth Center, with other organizations cooperating.

Ed McGraw, field executive, Boy Scouts of America, with headquarters in Carmi, was in charge of the President Says U. S. Glad to Talk with China

Would Discuss Anything Not Affecting Nationalist China

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower, asserting that peace chances seem on the upswing, said today the United States would be glad to talk with Red China about a Formosa cease-fire and anything else not affecting Nationalist China's own affairs.

Mr. Eisenhower, at his news conference was in an obviously optimistic mood about peace chances.

The President also declared that the United States would not talk behind the back of Nationalist China.

Mr. Eisenhower acknowledged that the State Department's initial reaction last Saturday to an offer by Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai to negotiate Far East problems might have been too harsh and perhaps overstated.

More Liberal Reaction

The President said he fully agreed with the more liberal reaction given Tuesday to Chou's offer by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

The State Department had said Saturday that the United States would "insist" that Nationalist China be present at any talks with Red China and it called on the Reds to give evidence of good faith.

That statement was issued by the State Department after acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. had cleared it by telephone with Mr. Eisenhower who was spending the weekend at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

Mr. Eisenhower said today the United States would be glad to test the Chinese Red offer. He said if they want to talk about a cease-fire in the Formosa straits the United States would be glad to talk so long as Nationalist China's interests are not involved. This supported the Dulles idea that the United States could talk directly with Red China, if necessary, without Nationalist China's attendance.

Mr. Eisenhower was asked if he saw signs of a tapering off in East-West tensions in recent days. With minor qualifications, the President said he confessed that he had the feeling things are on the upswing. He noted the break in the Far Eastern impasse and Russia's statement that it is ready to conclude an Austrian treaty.

Brighter Peace Hopes

Even though he could balance off every optimistic point with a pessimistic one, the President said he still had the feeling that peace hopes are brightening. One important factor, he said, was his belief that the world has faith that the United States is genuinely devoted to peace and opposed to dollar colonialism.

PRESIDENT CONFIRMS CORRESPONDENCE WITH RUSSIAN LEADER

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower confirmed today he has been in personal correspondence with Russian Marshall Georgi Zhukov. But he would not give any details.

Mr. Eisenhower told reporters it was a personal correspondence and he would respect the Russian leader's confidence.

The President was questioned at his news conference about a report that Zhukov had indicated to him directly that Russia is eager to end cold war tensions.

Mr. Eisenhower cut off questions on the subject by suggesting that no one would want to jeopardize any possibility that such a correspondence might improve relations between the United States and Russia.

Prosperity Picture

Editorial By Bruce Bissat

This may well turn out to be the best business year in America's history. The first three months of 1955 were the best of all time. Only major labor strife presumably could spoil the prospect.

The record shows that from the end of 1954 up to April 1, 1955, every major activity bounced back from last year's lows. In key fields like steel, construction, automobiles, and retail sales, new highs were established. Even problem industries such as textiles and coal showed considerable improvement.

Barring a crippling strike in steel or automobiles, or a veritable rash of work stoppages in less crucial areas, most observers expect the new boom to run on unchecked, at least through the first half of the year.

Even Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, roundly damned by Republicans in 1954 as a "gloom monger," says that real recovery is here, though he considers "recovery" a stage below "prosperity." And he throws in a warning that there are still dangerous soft spots in the economy.

Just a few of the harder optimists will say flatly that 1955 will be our best year. Most prefer to hedge somewhat. They worry about the galloping production in automobiles and housing, voicing doubt that the pace can be kept. Indeed, not even the brightest estimates for these fields match the present record rate of output.

Concern is felt, too, because agriculture is not participating in the boom. Farm income is still off.

Yet these are relatively light, fluffy clouds on the horizon. The real thunderhead is the prospect of industrial strife.

The United Automobile Workers currently are engaged in important new contract talks with General Motors. The UAW bid for a guaranteed annual wage could stop bustling GM cold.

Strikes already have tripled in the past month and a half. And more than 75 major labor contracts come up for renewal between now and July—affording many more opportunities for crippling disputes. Labor must be free to prosecute its demands by all reasonable and legal means, including the strike. But for the good of labor itself, and the whole nation, we must hope that union leaders will employ this weapon of last resort sparingly and judiciously in the days of test that lie ahead.

Clearly, whether the boom is to reach the heights envisaged by the optimists or whether it is to be of more modest proportions, it is to the advantage of all Americans to have the economy move along steadily without shattering interruption.

The men on both sides of the contract negotiating table should bear that in mind as they grapple with the workingman's bread-and-butter issues.

Big Success

Dr. Jonas E. Salk has given mothers and fathers everywhere one of the greatest gifts they could dream of—the chance for near-perfect immunity to polio for their children. His brilliant discovery of an antipolio vaccine, now thoroughly tested through wide application to 1,800,000 youngsters, rightly belongs with the medical marvels of our age.

For long years, parents have almost dreaded the warm months of the "polio season." As their kids returned hot and tired from the beach or playground, they listened anxiously for every report of a strange ache or pain. Despite all precautions, polio still struck fatal and crippling blows again and again.

Dr. Salk has opened a new era that can be free of this scourge if parents, public authorities and medical specialists will now collaborate sensibly to spread the vaccine's protection to all.

Every Contribution Another Weapon

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Dr. Salk Wants No Personal Reward, Only Reward For Nation's Children: Many Children Won't Get Serum Because Of Fund Shortage.

WASHINGTON. — A lot of people have been writing me suggesting a reward to Dr. Jonas Salk — a big cash gift to the man who found the way to stop that dread baby-killer, polio. Some readers even sent checks for me to forward to Dr. Salk.

So the other day I called him up. I had never met Dr. Salk, though I knew his background. He's a man who might not have been able to discover the vaccine for polio had the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act then been on the books. His folks were Jewish immigrants, his father a garment worker living in New York's teeming mid-Manhattan. He graduated from the City College of New York which Joe McCarthy branded a breeder of communism.

I found Dr. Salk, as I suspected, a humble man. He was not interested in money for himself, nor publicity. Like another great discoverer of his faith who died the other day, Albert Einstein, he shunned interviews.

But he was interested and concerned that the children who now have a chance to get the protection of his vaccine should all definitely get it. And the tragedy is that under present circumstances, all of them won't.

This is partly because there is not yet full vaccine production — though there will be soon. It's also because the March of Dimes—the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis — which has done such a stupendous job of battling polio through the years didn't reach its goal this year. On the eve of a great triumph, the contributing public fell short.

Dr. Salk indicated that if anyone deserved reward for the long years of battling polio, it was Basil O'Connor, head of the polio foundation, and the thousands of tireless workers who have so patiently raised money to help his research and the children already stricken with polio.

SALK'S GREATEST REWARD Real fact is that the National Polio Foundation, which is supplying the vaccine for all children in the first and second grades, will need around $11,000,000 to pay for this vaccine. Its credit is excellent and it is courageously going ahead. But all of that money is not yet raised.

Furthermore, even this generous contribution to the inoculation of the nation's children will cover only the first and second grades, plus the children who participated in the field trials last year and who will get a booster shot.

This leaves out the kindergarten group, one of the most dangerous ages. And it leaves out the third and fourth grades, also dangerous. Actually the most dangerous polio ages are from birth to nine years, though the danger continues right up to 20. Franklin Roosevelt, the man who inspired the polio foundation, was stricken at the age of 39.

To inoculate the 60,000,000 children between birth and the age of 20, which eventually should be done, would require $120,000,000. Yet the polio foundation will have a hard time finding the money for the first and second grades; which still omits the kindergarten ages, pre-school ages and higher primary grade children just as we enter the dread polio season.

So I would like to suggest to those who want to reward Dr. Salk that his greatest reward would be to see the widest possible use of his serum this spring and summer. And that if patriotic service clubs and organizations of the US—Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Junior Chambers of Commerce, Labor unions, farm groups — would pitch in and help the 3,100 March of Dimes chapters, it might be possible not only to make up the polio foundation's deficit, but also provide enough money to protect the kids who aren't old enough to go to school and the children of the third and fourth grades.

I don't claim to be able to spell out just how this money should be raised, but I do know that when the American people want to go to town, there's nothing that can stop them.

Legislature is Asked to Ban Trading Stamps

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.)—Rep. Robert T. McCloskey (R-Monmouth) said today he is asking the Legislature to ban trading stamps because promoters of the stamps are "milking" money from merchants.

McCloskey introduced the bill to ban the stamps Tuesday. The bill would permit stamps redeemable in cash only, and would not effect "box-top" coupons attached to products.

It would provide a fine of $25 to $1,000 and up to a year in jail. McCloskey said merchants in his district reported they are being "milked" of money by being forced to handle the stamps to meet their competition.

McCloskey said a survey showed redemption of the stamps took more than $80,000 out of a community of 10,000 persons in one year.

Other bills introduced in the Legislature Tuesday would: Ban the sale of goods on Sunday, except on food, drugs, newspapers and a few other items. The bill would exempt persons who for religious reasons do not conduct business on some other day of the week.

Appropriate $60,000 to improve the House's electric voting system. Permit Chicago to create an airport authority.

Liberalize the rights of osteopaths to practice medicine. Permit a levy up to .05 per cent by downstate cities for pensions.

Authorize counties to establish parking lots, and finance them through bond issues, loans, etc.

70 American Corporations Report Assets of Billion Dollars or More for 1954

By ROBERT G. SHORTAL United Press Financial Writer Copyright 1955 by United Press NEW YORK (U.P.)—Seventy American corporations had assets of a billion dollars or more at the end of 1954, a survey by the United Press showed today.

The figure highlighted the fabulous economic growth of the nation since the end of World War II, when only 43 firms were members of the exclusive "billion dollar club."

The 70 billionaire firms at the 1954 year-end had combined assets of $201,414,043,070—a figure equal to more than two-thirds of the total national debt.

On a per capita basis, it also works out to around $1,200 for each man, woman and child now living in the United States.

In 1953, the combined assets of the 70 companies were $188,469,121,735.

New Growth Unmatched

The nine years since the end of World War II have been unmatched in history in making America an economic bedrock of hope and strength for the free world.

Industry's tremendous growth since 1945 has been spurred by hot and cold wars, inflation, record consumer savings, and expenditures, and mammoth expansion programs.

The record makes unpleasant reading for Soviet spokesmen who have been predicting an economic collapse in the United States since 1946.

The 27 companies which joined the ranks of the billion dollar club in the postwar period exceeded by four the number that joined in the 17 years between 1929 and 1945.

Back in 1919, the first post-World War I year, there were only six corporate billionaires in the United States. They had a combined valuation of less than 10 billion dollars.

Today, three companies—Metropolitan Life, the Bell Telephone System and Prudential Insurance Co.—have assets of more than $10,000,000,000 each. Their assets aggregate $37,678,409,000.

Metropolitan Life headed the list again this year with assets of $13,091,375,328. It was the first time assets of any privately owned firm ever topped the $13,000,000,000 mark.

The giant Bell system, rapidly closing in on Metropolitan Life, was next with assets of $12,849,622,778. Bell has earmarked more than $1,400,000,000 for new construction this year alone and might conceivably take over the top slot.

The latest enrollment of billion-dollar companies consists of 21 banks, 19 industrial and manufacturing companies, 16 insurance companies, 6 railroads, 5 public utilities, 2 credit firms and 1 mail order firm.

Bill to Exempt Radio, TV from Civil Libel Barely Passes Committee

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.)—A bill to exempt radio and television stations from civil libel suits for statements by political or non-censored speakers Tuesday barely got out of an Illinois Senate committee.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. George E. Drach (R-Springfield), squeaked out of the Senate Judiciary Committee by a 13-11 vote.

A number of senators said they were voting for the measure "with reservations" and might oppose it on the Senate floor.

Name Group to Direct Vaccine Distribution

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eleven men and women were named today to serve on the National Advisory Committee which will direct the distribution of all Salk polio vaccine shots throughout the nation.

Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, secretary of health, education and welfare, announced formation of the committee in a message to a citizens conference here on the vaccine problem.

She also revealed that Dr. Jonas E. Salk, the vaccine's developer, has offered to help train foreign scientists and to provide "seed virus" to laboratories abroad to help make his "discovery" freely available to the world.

Mrs. Hobby said this was an important move to carry out President Eisenhower's directive to provide the nations of the world with the data necessary to start polio vaccine production.

Dr. Chester S. Keefer, Mrs. Hobby's special medical adviser, was named chairman of the national committee which is expected to begin organizing its work immediately.

The committee hopes to get its allocation system operating very shortly. Some industry sources have said, however, that it may take three, four, or possibly more weeks before it can start setting quotas because of the complicated problems involved.

Second Film On Bible Sunday at Christian Church

The second section of a sound film which faithfully traces the origins and development of the Holy Bible, entitled "Our Bible—How It Came to Us," will be shown at the First Christian church Sunday, May 1, at 7:30 p. m., it was announced today by Rev. Glen Daugherty, pastor.

Produced by the American Bible Society, "Our Bible—How It Came to Us" has been hailed as the most authentic film document ever made on the history of the Bible. Years of diligent planning, research and scholarly collaboration went into the script before the first actor took his place before the camera. It has a cast of over 250 players.

The second section shows how the Bible slowly spread across Europe during the third and fourth centuries through the devoted efforts of careful copyists and great translators. Among the outstanding translations of this period is that of Jerome, the Latin Vulgate. The Goths brought destruction to western Europe but the copying of manuscripts still persisted in the monasteries and the Bible gradually spread into northern Europe and into the British Isles.

The film depicts the thirst of the people for the Bible, and the martyrdoms and oppressions they faced for daring to possess a copy. It reveals how, despite these persecutions, translation and Bible reading persisted until finally, a translation of the entire Bible in English made its appearance under the auspices of Wyclif.

Philippines Ask Formation of 8-Nation Army

BAGUIO, P. I. (AP) — The Philippines proposed today the formation of an eight-nation army to police Southeast Asia against Communist aggression.

The proposal, made during a meeting of Southeast Asia Treaty Organization military planners, called for an army "bigger than the force which the United States had in the Southwest Pacific in World War II."

Reliable conference sources said the Philippines' surprise proposal was made during the Monday meeting. Details were kept secret under the strict security wraps of the 86 military experts who are attempting to force a master defense plan against Red aggression.

The army proposal surprised delegates. In previous meetings SEATO leaders had suggested a smaller, highly mobile force possibly armed with tactical atomic weapons rather than large armies as set up under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Delegates disclosed that subcommittees were working on details of the plan in order to write a workable draft to hand to the full conference.

Extend Contract Between American Motors and Union

DETROIT (AP) — Labor observers today interpreted the extension of collective bargaining agreements between American Motors Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers as a union move to concentrate on major auto producers in its drive for a guaranteed annual wage. The extension of present agreements covering wages, holiday pay, pensions and other benefits to Aug. 12 was announced jointly by the company and the union late Tuesday.

The agreement provides for holiday pay for July 4 and includes a continuation of the cost of living formula. A clause in the pact provides for the adjustment in rates to be made June 1, based on the Bureau of Labor Statistics consumer's price index of April 15.

File Anti-Trust Suit Against Hilton

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department charged the Hilton Hotel Corp. today with violating anti-trust laws by buying the 10 hotel Statler chain.

It asked for a court order forcing the Hilton corporation to get rid of the newly purchased Statler hotels in Washington, D. C., New York City, St. Louis, Los Angeles and in what ever other cities competition has been affected by the merger.

The suit was filed in Federal District Court here.

It charged that the Hilton chain, by buying the Statler hotels, eliminated competition for convention business.

The suit said that the Hilton corporation, owned by 67-year-old hotel magnate Conrad Hilton, acquired Statler's stock and assets in transactions that involved "in excess of 100 million dollars." The deal made the Hilton chain the nation's largest.

Miss Marilyn Bernice Ebel, Lyle Lindsay Reed Wed in Ceremony at Belleville

Mrs. Lyle Lindsay Reed

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin O. Ebel, 310 State street, Belleville, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Marilyn Bernice Ebel, to Lyle Lindsay Reed, son of Mrs. Helen Reed and the late Lowell L. Reed, 927 Barnett street.

The wedding took place Saturday, April 23, at 7 p. m. at the Christ Evangelical and Reformed church in Belleville. Rev. Alfred F. Schroeder performed the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a ballerina length gown of nylon tulle, trimmed with lace over satin. The molded bodice was fashioned with a scoop neckline and dainty short sleeves. Bands of lace accented the bodice. The full bouffant skirt worn over hoops was trimmed with bands of lace at the hipline and fell into soft accordion pleated folds. Short mitts complemented the gown. Her fingertip veil of white illusion edged with a band of lace was secured by a crown tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of pale pink cymbidiums and poms with white stock and lily of the valley.

Miss Shirley Mae Ebel, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, wearing a ballerina length gown of white everglaze sateen, embroidered in blue and white, having a fitted bodice with a deep V neckline. Accenting the waistline was a sash of blue taffeta forming a large bow in the back. Her headpiece was bands of blue embroidered lace and flowers, and her jewelry consisted of blue earrings and choker necklace, gifts of the bridegroom. She carried a colonial bouquet of blue pom poms.

The bridesmaid was Miss Dianne Reed, sister of the bridegroom. She wore a pink gown designed identically to that of the maid of honor and carried a colonial bouquet of pink pom poms.

Gene Richards of Carbondale, fraternity brother of the bridegroom, was best man at the wedding, and groomsman was Bill Braddock, 615 North Granger, in Harrisburg. Ushers were Edward Seiler, Belleville, and Rex Moore, 1232 South McKinley, Harrisburg.

Mrs. Ebel chose for her daughter's wedding a pink frock with pink and black accessories, and Mrs. Reed wore a rust knit suit with black accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

The bride is a graduate of the Belleville Township high school and attended Southern Illinois university two years. She is a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority. The bridegroom, who is now with the United States Air Force, is a graduate of the Harrisburg Township high school and also spent two years at S. I. U. He was affiliated with Phi Kappa Tau fraternity.

Following the wedding the two left for Harlingen, Texas, where they will reside.

Illinois House Rejects Proposal to Submit Vote by 18-Year-Olds to Election

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A move to lower the voting age to 18 years today appeared dead for another two years.

The House Tuesday voted down a resolution to submit the constitutional amendment on voting age at the 1956 general election.

With 102 votes needed, the resolution got only 80, and 46 votes were cast against it. Most of the opposition came from Republicans.

Rep. Paul Powell (D-Vienna) said he didn't understand the Republican opposition since both President Eisenhower and GOP Chairman Leonard Hall had advocated the 18-year-old vote.

Democratic Whip Clyde L. Choate (D-Anna), chief sponsor of the resolution, said persons old enough to serve in the military should be allowed to vote for the men who run the country.

Uphold Toll Road Bills

Gov. William G. Stratton's toll road program was upheld by the House Roads and Bridges Committee.

The committee killed—by indefinitely postponing—bills to make actions of the Toll Road Commission subject to court review, and then give the Legislature power over toll road expenditures.

Rep. John W. Lewis Jr., Marshall, House majority leader, said the bills would "hamstring and sabotage" the Toll Road Commission.

The Senate Highways Committee postponed consideration of a bill also designed to make Toll Road Commission bond sales and land acquisition subject to court review. The measure is sponsored by Sen. Lottie Holman O'Neill (R-Downers Grove).

"The Toll Road Commission is not subject to court review at all under the present law," she said. "The people in my district don't like it."

Sen. Merritt J. Little (R-Aurora), moved for postponement until certain witnesses could be heard, and said, "if you want to abolish the

Stevenson is 'My Choice', Truman Says

CHICAGO (AP)—Harry S. Truman said today that Adlai E. Stevenson is "my choice" for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1956.

Mr. Truman was asked at a news conference whether he considered the former Illinois governor as the leading candidate for the nomination. He replied: "Yes, I do."

Mr. Truman arrived here by train from Kansas City.

Mr. Truman, asked if the Democrats could beat President Eisenhower in 1956 should Mr. Eisenhower choose to run, said the Democrats would win, no matter who the Republicans nominated.

He declined to comment on the present administration's policy, saying "I don't want to be in the position of a carping critic of what goes on when I don't know all the facts."

Mr. Truman will make a "completely non-political" speech tonight before the Decalogue Society of Chicago. It will concern the dangers to the Bill of Rights.

Toll Road Commission, this is the best way to do it."

The proposed judicial article for revision of the Illinois court system—No. 1 on Gov. William G. Stratton's program for constitution change—ran into further delay. The House Executive Committee postponed a final hearing on the amendment when opposition witnesses reported they were unable to appear. The special hearing was set for May 10.

Judicial Bill Amendments

A new batch of amendments to the proposed bill were offered and the joint committee on judicial reform of the Illinois and Chicago Bar Assn., which meet May 6 in Rockford to study the amendments.

The amendments were offered by Democrats Alan J. Dixon, Belleville, and Samuel Shapiro, Kankakee, and Republican William E. Pollack, Chicago.

Action on legislative reapportionment also was put off for another week. Chairmen of the House and Senate committees working on new legislative district maps said Chicago members had been told to revise their proposed districts to answer charges of gerrymandering.

Sheppard Asks Trial Based on New Evidence

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard claimed today that his wife's true murderer was left-handed and splattered blood about the murder bedroom after his victim bit him.

On the basis of that "newly discovered evidence," Sheppard said, the trial that ended in his conviction of second-degree murder should be set aside and a new trial ordered.

Common Pleas Judge Edward Blythin received the defense appeal, and said he would reach a decision by Thursday, probably in the morning.

The left-handed theory was advanced in a 33-page affidavit signed by Dr. Paul L. Kirk, University of California criminologist hired to investigate the Independence Day murder of Dr. Sam's pregnant wife, Marilyn. It was one of seven affidavits accepted by Blythin for study.

The Kirk paper, parts of which were contained in an earlier brief filed with the Court of Appeals, made the claims that:

The weapon was a short instrument, probably a flashlight.

A sex attack was motive for the bludgeoning-slashing. Broken teeth in the victim's mouth indicated she bit her assailant. In his rage he struck her, the blood from his cut finger splashing on a closet door. Kirk said the blood did not match specimens of the defendant.

Sheppard attended the brief hearing.

One of the most violent earthquakes ever known, at New Madrid, Mo., resulted not in destruction, but in the creation of Reelfoot Lake which abounds with what has been called one of the most teeming collections of wild life and vegetation in the world.

Britain Asks Chou For Peace Ideas

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Harold MacMillan said today Britain's envoy in Peking has been ordered to ask Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai to detail his Formosa peace ideas.

MacMillan's announcement in the House of Commons reinforced authoritative reports that Britain has offered to act as intermediary to bring the United States and Red China together for cease-fire talks.

He said Britain's policy "has always been to try and get a cease-fire and get the problems of Formosa and the off-shore islands settled by negotiation."

"We have been in continuous negotiations with the parties concerned in order to obtain these objectives," MacMillan said. "If we may judge from recent events, our recent efforts have not been without success."

The adaptability of the common mallow has made it the chief wild duck of the world, for it will breed almost anywhere if unmolested and readily adapts itself to civilization.

Democrats Accuse Republicans of Trickery in Senate Remap Proposal

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Long-expected fireworks over legislative reapportionment erupted in the Illinois Senate today, with Democrats accusing Republicans of political trickery and bad faith.

The 31 Republican senators returned from a morning caucus with a new proposal for drawing Senate district lines in Chicago. The previous proposal had been criticized because the districts varied greatly in area, supposed to be the determining factor.

While the new GOP map made the districts more equal in area, Senate Democrats immediately saw it would force nine of them—almost half their number—to oppose each other for re-election.

Sen. William J. Lynch, Chicago, Democratic leader, demanded the Senate secretary read the Daily Journal, a filibustering tactic. Then Lynch asked for a recess for a Democratic caucus.

After the caucus Lynch told newsmen the Republican map was an "atrocious."

Union Dispute Mars Dedication Of State Building

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A jurisdictional dispute among two union crafts at the new state office building marred the air of celebration at the building's dedication today.

Gov. William G. Stratton was due to dedicate the structure at gala ceremonies at 3:30 p. m.

Most of the workers on the building would be on hand to see the gerrymandering by a previous proposal.

Rep. William E. Pollack (R-Chicago), chairman of the four-man subcommittee, said the new map has been approved by the House special committee on reapportionment and will be written into a bill to be submitted to the entire House.

Committees in both the House and Senate are working on statewide reapportionment to carry out a constitutional amendment passed at the 1954 general election. Agreements were previously reached on downstate and rural Cook County portions of the redistricting.

dedication but 40 members of the sheet metal workers union were absent in the dispute.

The sheet metal workers walked off the job Tuesday to object to installation of cabinets in the building's toilets by ironworkers.

Alex Zabore, construction superintendent for the main contractor, said the dispute was slowing up work slightly since the ironworkers had been called off the cabinet installations until a settlement is reached.

Macoupin Uranium Bubble Bursts SPRINGFIELD — Macoupin county's uranium discovery bubble burst today as an Atomic Energy Commission geologist left after reporting there was no uranium in the area. AEC geologist Leslie Barrett, of the Ishpeming, Mich., sub-office of the AEC, made an all-day inspection of the area around Medora Tuesday. He examined ore samples with a Geiger counter, including those claimed radio-active by A. Kay Frank, Vandalia oil well driller and promoter. Barrett said the highest radio-active reading was .009, about 10-20 times lower than the lowest commercial value ore. The only three areas of North America and Europe not accessible today by railroads and highways are the wilderness sections of northern Canada, Alaska and remote regions of Scandinavia.

Eastern Defeats Southern, 68-63, in Dual Track Meet

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — Eastern Illinois defeated Southern Illinois, 68-63, Tuesday in a dual track meet.

Ray White of Eastern won the high and low hurdles and the broad jump. Winston Brown, also of Eastern, took both the 100 and 200 yard dashes.

Southern athletes set two school records. Edmond Hayes fired the shot put 47 feet, 3 1/2 inches. The mile relay team set a school mark of 3:27.1.

Southern Beats Arkansas State, 5-2

Oklahoma Placed on 2-Year Probation by NCAA; U. of Cincinnati is Suspended

CHICAGO (AP)—The University of Oklahoma, one of the nation's football giants, was on two years probation today as the National Collegiate Athletic Association handed out some of the stiffest infractions penalties on record.

The University of Cincinnati was handed a one-year suspension but that included a ban on its team participating in national championships.

Three other smaller universities were reprimanded by the NCAA.

Oklahoma was accused of offering prospective student-athletes "cost free education" after their eligibility had expired, of paying medical expenses for wives and children of athletes and with providing other fringe benefits, in the form of cash, clothes and even the cost of a rented automobile. Cincinnati coaches were accused of offering aid exceeding that permitted by the university and NCAA rules. The NCAA also alleged that Cincinnati conducted tryouts for jobs provided athletes was not performed.

The University of Dayton, Bethune-Cookman College and Virginia Union were reprimanded.

Bethune-Cookman College and Virginia Union were penalized for playing in the Tropical Bowl football game at Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 12, 1953, on the grounds it was not certified by the NCAA.

The penalty against Dayton was for trying out at least two prospective athletes on the campus. It said the Dayton basketball coach conducted a clinic involving participation of prospective athletes, thus making the program "a tryout in fact, if not in intent."

The council Tuesday also restored to good standing two institutions that were placed on probation May 7, 1954—Kansas State and North Carolina State.

University of Oklahoma President George L. Cross and Coach Bud Wilkinson said they considered the NCAA report a "vindication" of the school's athletic policies.

They said the report failed to show "that we are guilty of any flagrant recruiting practices named in the original allegation."

The NCAA found them "guilty of the NCAA interpretation of the NCAA rules," their statement said.

Bob Dallas Offered Coaching Post At Ridgway High

Bob Dallas, former ITHS football tackle, has been offered the post of athletic coach at Ridgway high school, succeeding Al Penman, whose resignation was announced this week, officials there stated today.

Dallas, a graduate of HTS in 1946 and SIU in 1950, spent the past four years in the Navy. He was stationed for the past two years at Norfolk with the naval aviation unit and participated in sports. He was a member of the All Navy baseball team last year.

While a student at HTS, he participated in football and played with the Legion baseball team. Penman's resignation is effective at the end of the current school year.

Penman said he had no definite position in mind but might accept a post in Iowa or in northern Illinois.

Under his direction, the Eagles won 10 of 25 games this past season and six of 25 the first year.

A native of West Frankfort, Penman holds a master's degree from SIU.

His resignation left two of the three Gallatin county high schools without coaches for the coming season, Barney Genisio having resigned at Shawneetown last month.

U. of I. Defeats Illinois Normal, 10-8

Junior High Wins 3-School Track Meet

Norris City is Second, Ridgway Third in Regional

The Harrisburg Junior high school yesterday afternoon won a three-school regional track and field meet at Taylor Field, scoring 85 1/2 points to 72 1/2 for Norris City and 17 for Ridgway.

Norris City, which had a lad named Greathouse who won three events, gave the locals a battle and led much of the way, but the results of the final four events, the 800, the 220, the discus and relay, piled up points for Harrisburg to give Coach Stobart Abney's boys the win.

Greathouse won the 50 and 100 yard dashes and the broad jump. A double winner was Sammie Drue of Harrisburg, who took the 220 and the discus and finished second in the 100.

Harrisburg lost a first place in the hurdles when Joey Ford, running three or four yards in front, tripped on the final hurdle and fell into the cinders.

Bob Lemon Beats Senators, 3-2, for Fourth Win; Turley Blanks Chicago on One Hit

By CARL LUNDQUIST

United Press Sports Writer
If Cleveland's other pitchers could approach the early season brilliance of Bob Lemon, the Indians not only would be a good bet to win the pennant again but they might top their record 1954 total of 111 victories.

Lemon, with four straight victories, is off to the finest start of his 10-year pitching career with the Indians. But unless some of their other heralded hurlers get in the groove shortly, there may be trouble ahead.

At the moment, Lemon is the only Cleveland pitcher who has won more games than he has lost. Mike Garcia is 1-2 and the other member of the big three, Early Wynn, has been laid up with influenza and hasn't even started yet. Rookie Herb Score and Art Houtteman are each at 1-1 and Bobby Feller is 0-1 with a defeat in his only start.

Lemon personally made sure of his fourth triumph against Washington Tuesday, winning a nine-inning, 3-2, on the margin of his fourth inning homer. Bobby Avila also hit a Cleveland homer. Losing pitcher, Mickey McDermott, gave up only five hits but walked eight. Both he and Lemon struck out six.

McDermott made three hits and stole a base.

Early Start
Lemon never previously managed to win his fourth game until well into May. Last year he was 4-0 on May 5. His best start prior to that was in 1952 when he was 4-2 on May 17. In 1948 and 1950, he was 4-2 on May 20. In 1953, he was 4-4 on May 23 and in 1951 he didn't win No. 4 until May 29 when he was 4-5. In 1949, when he was injured he went until June 8 to win his fourth game. He was 4-1 then.

The Yankees gained another superb pitching effort from Bob Turley, who pitched a one-hitter, the first in the majors this season, subduing the White Sox, 5-0, for his third straight victory. He struck out 10 batters and missed his no-hitter when Sherman Lollar singled with two out in the second inning. Turley also walked nine but stranded seven men on base.

In other American League games, Detroit edged Baltimore 3-2 when Al Kaline broke up the game with a leadoff homer in the ninth and Kansas City defeated Boston, 8-7, in 11 innings when Jim Finigan singled home the winning run after Joe Astroth had tripped.

Antonielli Beats Braves
Lefty Johnny Antonelli struck out nine Braves and gave up only three hits in a 3-2 Giant triumph over his old mates from Milwaukee. The Giants picked up only five hits but bunched four singles with a walk off Bob Buhl in the first inning for all of their runs. Buhl gave up another hit in the second inning but thereafter he and relievers Dave Jolly and Warren Spahn pitched hitless ball.

All other National League games were rained out.

Kaline, who now has five homers for the season, also has hit safely in 11 consecutive games for Detroit. Ned Garver scattered 10 hits to win his second game.

Finigan previously had hit a three run homer, his fourth of the year, for Kansas City while Vic Power also connected for a round-tripper. Sammy White and Norm Zauchin hit Boston homers.

Bill Skowron, now batting .438 with 17 runs driven in, furnished Turley with three runs batted in, one on his fourth homer, in the Yankee triumph.

Druggists' Ass'n Opposes Gov't Control Of Vaccine Distribution

CHICAGO — The National Association of Retail Druggists said today it opposed government-controlled distribution of the Salk polio vaccine.

"Equitable allocation" of the vaccine can be handled through regular commercial facilities, it said.

The association statement added that shortages of the vaccine are temporary and will cease to be acute before September.

It said indications are that the vaccine will begin to move through commercial channels after May 15.

Crusading Mississippi Newspaper Editor SIU Journalism Day Speaker on May 12

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Highlighting Southern Illinois University's Journalism Day events May 12 will be Hodding Carter, nationally known crusading Mississippi newspaper editor who has been named SIU's third Elijah P. Lovejoy Lecturer in Journalism.

Carter will be on the SIU campus May 11-13, speaking to journalism classes, meeting informally with journalism students, and delivering two addresses. He will speak at a student convocation in Shryock Auditorium at 10 a. m. May 12 and will give the feature address at the annual Journalism Day dinner meeting the same evening in the SIU cafeteria.

The Mississippi editor is publisher of the daily Delta Democrat-Times at Greenville, Miss., which has a circulation of some 12,000. A native of Hammond, La., where he started his first daily in 1932, Carter is a graduate of Bowdoin college, Brunswick, Maine; and studied at Tulane university, Harvard and the Columbia University School of Journalism.

He has been recognized with honorary degrees from Bowdoin, Harvard (1947), and Washington university, St. Louis (1954). He had a teaching fellowship at Tulane in 1928-29 and received the Nieman fellowship for newspapermen at Harvard in 1939. A Guggenheim fellowship for creative writing came to him in 1945 and the following year he received the Pulitzer prize for editorial writing. During World War II he was in army public relations and served as editor of the Middle East editions of Stars and Stripes, receiving a War Department citation in 1946.

Before becoming publisher of the Delta Democrat-Times in 1939, he worked for a New Orleans paper, the Associated Press, the United Press, PM in New York, and started two papers of his own. Carter's editorial battles with Huey Long and Mississippi's Senator Bilbo brought him national attention.

In addition to his outstanding work as a newspaper editor he has written several books. He is a member of the American Society of Newspaper Editors; a Fellow of Sigma Delta Chi, the professional journalism fraternity; the board of trustees of George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tenn., since 1951; the National Citizens Commission for the Public Schools; the Pulitzer Prize advisory board; and the Tulane University board of visitors (1953-54). Since 1952 he has annually been appointed a civilian aide to the Secretary of

Vaccine Makes Use of Allergy

CHICAGO — The Salk polio vaccine makes use of an allergy phenomenon, according to physicians attending the Congress of the American College of Allergists. The first shot builds up a sensitization within the body. Dr. M. Murry Peshing told the group. With the second dose body cells "recall" their previous contact with the invader and create immunity through production of antibodies.

In another paper read at the sessions, Dr. Harry L. Rogers said hay fever sufferers should avoid breathing through the mouth.

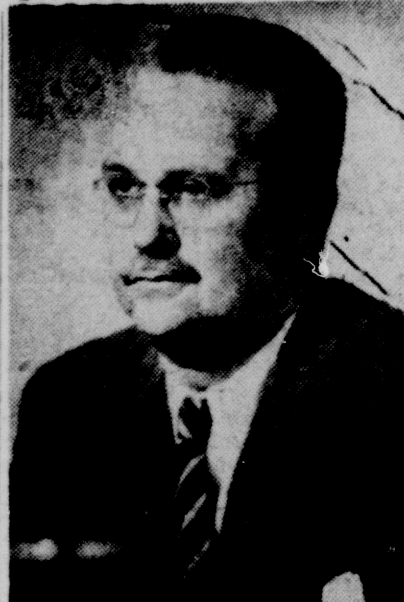

He said mouth-breathing brings troublesome pollen into direct contact with the lungs. He explained that 65 per cent of hay fever patients bring on asthma this way.

Offer Bill to Boost Judges' Pay

SPRINGFIELD — Five Cook county senators today introduced a bill to raise the salaries of Supreme Court justices to $22,500, downstate Circuit Court judges to $15,000 and Cook County Circuit and Superior judges to $22,000.

Supreme Court justices, who get $18,000 now, would get $20,000 if elected since May 25, 1951. All those elected after the bill goes into effect would get $22,500.

Circuit and Superior Court judges throughout the state who were elected since June, 1951, would get $15,000 instead of $12,500.

While at SIU Carter will receive the Elijah P. Lovejoy Lecturer's certificate at the Journalism Day dinner.

Other Journalism department awards at the dinner will go to student editors and managers of the Egyptian and Obelisk, SIU student newspaper and yearbook respectively; and to Dr. E. C. Coleman, SIU associate professor of English, for service to students.

Farm Operators Covered by Social Security

The 1954 amendments to the Social Security act extended old-age and survivors insurance to over three and a half million farm operators—people farming for themselves—beginning January 1, 1955. This is the largest single group brought under the program on a compulsory basis by the new law, according to E. Bishop Hill, district manager of the Harrisburg Social Security Administration office. Practically all farm operators who clear as much as $400 in a year are earning social credits in much the same way as the self-employed business man has been earning them since the beginning of 1950.

For the farm operators, the new amendments provide a special simplified reporting procedure. Mr. Hill stated. Those farmers who report on a cash basis and who have a gross income of $1,800 or less for the year may report either their actual net earnings or 50 per cent of the gross income. A farm operator who has annual gross earnings over $1,800 must figure his actual net earnings for the year. If that net is less than $900 for the year, the farm operator may either report $900 or the actual amount for his old-age and survivors insurance purposes. The self-employed farmer who has net earnings of $400 or more in a taxable year after 1954 must report all such earnings up to $4,200 for social security purposes. His net earnings—or profit—is the amount left after subtracting his farm expenses from his gross receipts as determined for income tax purposes. He will pay the three per cent social security tax on these net self-employment earnings once a year beginning with 1955.

The self-employment social security tax on farm earnings applies to taxable years after 1954. If a self-employed farmer's first report covering any 1955 earnings is for the entire calendar year 1955, he will make the report early in 1956 as part of his Federal income tax return. If a farmer's net earnings for the year are more than $400, he must file a self-employment report and pay the social security tax of three per cent even if his earnings have not been high enough to require the payment of any Federal income tax, Mr. Hill concluded.

Finest Technical Training Offered AF Volunteers

"The finest technical training in the world is now offered young men and women entering the United States Air Force," according to M-Sgt. Demediuk, local Air Force recruiter.

One of the ten schools operated by the Technical Training Air Force, a new and important division of the Air Training Command, is located at Francis E. Warren Air Force Base. The base was named after the former governor and United States Senator from Wyoming. The installation is two miles west of Cheyenne, and is the training center for administrative specialists.

In addition to training clerks, typists, Warren's curriculum includes courses for automotive mechanics, supply technicians, telephone and telephone personnel, and operators for cranes, bulldozers and gasoline trucks.

Originated to train technical specialists for the Air Force, the Technical Training Air Force has graduated over one million specialists in three years.

During their basic training period, Air Force volunteers are given a series of tests and interviews to determine which of the 199 courses offered in the technical training program he or she is best suited for.

The latest training methods and equipment are used in the technical schools of the Air Force, which have learned through experience that the "learn-by-doing" system of teaching produces the best-trained personnel.

Qualified men and women who are interested in learning more about the advantages of the United States Air Force are urged to contact M-Sgt. Peter F. Demediuk at 20 South Main Street, Harrisburg, Ill.

Good Neighbor Club
Meets With Mrs. Paul R. Drott
The Good Neighbor club met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Paul R. Drott for the regular social.

The president, Mrs. Wilma Bond, called the meeting to order with singing and prayer by Mrs. Eva Gollmer. Thirteen members and three visitors answered roll call with their favorite month and telling why.

Louise Gollmer installed the new officers and gave each a lovely corsage. She also gave the retiring president a gift from the club. The new officers are Maryemma Guye, president; Laverna Sittig, vice president; June Upton, secretary; Mary Margaret Small, treasurer; and Lizzie Drott, reporter.

The president then appointed her committees for the new year. Following the business meeting the entertainment committee conducted some interesting games and contests with prizes being awarded to Eva Gollmer, Belle Allen and Louise Gollmer. The door prize was won by Mary Small.

The hostess, assisted by Maryemma Guye, served homemade cake, jello fruit salad, topped with cream and drinks to the following besides those already mentioned: Bonnell Hafford, Velta Winders, Edith Small, Mary Riegel, Mrs. Della Ward and daughter, Mary Ann of Ohio, Darlene Guye, Vernon Bond, and Charles A. Drott.

The family night is to be Friday, May 13, at Abney school, and the May meeting will be held at the home of Louise Gollmer.

DEATH OF A LEGEND

By WILL HENRY

Copyright 1954 by Will Henry. Used by arrangement with Random House, Inc. Distributed by NEA Service.

THE STORY: Recovering from a serious bullet wound inflicted by a federal cavalryman, Jesse James meets Zerelda Mimms at Kansas City.

VIII

He felt her hand tighten, felt the slim weight of her ease to the bed, felt the roundness and the warmth of the soft hip where it pressed his shoulder, the cool pressure of her free hand where it lay, fresh and light as a first snowflake, against his burning cheek. It was suddenly very dark in the room, and the fragrance and softness of her lap drew his head swiftly in.

"I'll stay, Cousin Jesse," she said softly. "I'll wait along a spell with you."

Jesse did not hear her. He was safe at last and, for the first time within the memory of the hunted years, no longer alone. The labored rhythm of his breathing lost its harshness, fell easily away into sleep. When the moon came an hour later, tipping the room's darkness with its prying silver, Zerelda had not moved.

For nine years she was to wait for Jesse. Then, for seven more, to stand beside him. Standing and waiting, waiting and standing. Always in Jesse's shadow. A shadow of 16 years of terror, violence and the sudden roar of six-gun uprecedented in the annals of American outlaws. And in the end, when the last gun had spoken, she stood beneath another tree in another farmyard, still watching, still waiting, while the rough pine box was lowered, the last clouds fell, and the final words began.

Many damnations of Jesse James exist in cold fact. But upon one point of romantic record all accounts remain unanimous. Jesse looked once upon Zerelda Mimms, and never took his eyes away. Figuratively, she was the first woman he saw and, literally, she was the last.

The others of his wild band, notably the handsome, light-natured Cole, who never married and who left a string of fractured frontier pearls from Rulo, Neb., to El Paso, Tex., were normal patrons of their hard calling's accepted trilogy of moral trespass—bad whiskey, sharp cards, shady women.

Not so their unsmiling leader. He would drink upon infrequent occasions. In even rarer moments, he would draw to the inside straight or to the bob-tailed flush. Even in his speech he was cleaner and more careful than the others. And with the grinning Cole, who shared the pious perversity of his religious fervor, he more than once sang in some small-town church choir with his guns belted in hidden sacrilege beneath the buttoned sanctity of his cavalry coat, the while, just beyond the town, his cursing followers held the horses and anxiously scanned the south road for dust-sign of the approaching posse.

This much must stand upon the ledger of latter-day judgment, against any spelling of murder or inscription of social rapine, to the singular credit of Jesse James: he abode with his chosen woman, in sickness as in health, until death did them part.

In October of 1865, rabidly Southern Clay County had elected a Republican sheriff. His name was Joe Rickards. A solid, stumpy, unimaginative man, history strangely cut him out for a distinction no other man before or after him was to know.

Rickards tilted his chair against the boarded front of his Liberty lockup, enjoyed the growing warmth of the late November sun. It was a fine Saturday morning. Across the square, and around it, the normal traffic of a border town on market day moved in orderly, busy progression. Beside him Tunk Johnson, his right-hand deputy and a local boy of some repute, adjusted the tilt of his own chair.

"It don't seem like old times no more," averred Tunk. "Things has been quiet since Jess got winged and his boys done took to the brush. How you reckon he is, anyways? Old Jess, I mean."

Rickards shot his mean stream of Burley at a fly that had tarried too long on the far edge of the boardwalk. He held his counsel until the fly had decently drowned.

"You can hear anything you want when it comes to that rooster. Personally, I'll believe he's dead when the box is shut and covered up."

Tunk started to answer, then glanced across the square. "Speaking of the James boys," he said, pointing, "ain't that Sam Holmes coming, yonder?"

Not of the caliber to fit into a regular guerrilla gun, Sam Holmes was a known hanger-on of the outlawed irregulars and, accordingly, a fair source of backwoods information. Rickards dropped his chair forward, nodding wordless answer to Tunk's questions.

Holmes slid the bay up, wasted no time in Saturday morning amenities. "Jesse and the boys has been over to the Platte County Fair. They said to tell you they're coming into Liberty this morning and that no Republican is going to arrest them, neither!"

"Thanks," grunted Rickards. "Don't spur that bay none in getting him out of here. You throw any more mud on my front stoop, I'll jug you."

With the warning, Holmes wheeled the bay and departed. It may or may not have been significant that he held the lathered animal to a careful chop-step walk until he had him well clear of Sheriff Joe Rickards' "front stoop."

"How soon can you pull out?" Tunk asked the sheriff.

The sheriff stood up. "I reckon I'll stay around," he said quietly, and turned and went into his office.

THE SENSATIONAL STRATO-STREAK V-8

Here's the most modern and efficient V-8 in the industry, delivering 200 horsepower with the four-barrel carburetor, optional at very low extra cost.

It's a fact—never before in the history of the automobile industry has a car offered so much power for so little money as the 1955 Pontiac. It is the first and only automobile ever built that delivers 200 horsepower at a price every new-car buyer can afford—hundreds of dollars less than any car equalling its blazing performance.

And that's not all! Pontiac is also the sole automobile at its price to unite the terrific "drive" of 200 horsepower with a road-leveling 122" or 124" wheelbase and such big-car stability. It's the biggest as well as the highest-powered car ever priced with the lowest.

Yes, you read that right! You can buy a big, powerful Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars or stripped economy models of higher-priced makes.

Come in and drive this silken-smooth performer. A few miles behind the wheel will tell you better than any words that Pontiac is the greatest buy that ever took the highway!

Worsted's in Trim for Cool Fashions

Wool emerges sparkling fresh in these spring and summer styles, seen about Nassau. A checked wool tunic (left) is the important item in a three-piece ensemble by Talmack. It's done in feather-light flat surfaced worsted, bright red and white. Tunic has low pressed pockets, a deep V neckline and feather-bone buttons. It tops a skinny skirt of sheer black wool. Third piece, a white blouse is long-sleeved with deep rounded collar and a black taffeta bow. Slim lines (center) in Herbert Sondheim design are carried out in light-weight down-textured wool trimmed with sharp black touches. Smooth fitted hip line is emphasized with deep tab detail at front of skirt. Favorite look for summer, the over-blouse suit (right) is by Samuel Winston. It's in sheer black wool. Short sleeved blouse is filled in with black and white polka dot gilet. —By CAILE DUGAS, NEA Women's Editor.
